MARRIAGE OF PATIENTS:

The hospital policy regarding the marriage of patients is detailed in Administrative Directive 607. Hospital staff has the ethical obligation to address the matter of marriage and its impact on treatment and safety in cases where a patient is seeking to marry while hospitalized.

The hospital is concerned for the safety of all parties involved in a patient marriage and encourages patients to fully disclose medical, psychiatric, and criminal background information to their intended spouse prior to marriage. The hospital and its staff cannot release medical, criminal, or treatment information without the patient's consent. It should be noted that some criminal background information may be accessed from the Megan's Law database and from the county in which the offense was committed. In addition to being fully informed of the patient's background, we also strongly recommend counseling with a qualified mental health therapist to explore the implications of marriage to an involuntarily detained forensic psychiatric patient.

Families of Patients at Atascadero State Hospital

You Can Participate in Treatment

You can be a very important partner in the treatment process at ASH. The effectiveness of the care provided may be greatly enhanced by your participation. If you choose, you can help and participate by:

- Providing information:

Families can to the best of their knowledge provide accurate and complete information about present complaints, past illnesses, hospitalizations, medications, and other matters relating to the patient's health to the responsible treatment staff. Families may also report concerns about their loved one's care or any unexpected changes in the patient's care.

- Asking questions:

Families can ask questions when they do not understand what they have been told about the patient's care or about what they are expected to do. The social worker must have authorization from the patient in order to provide any information to a family member about a specific patient in our care.

- Following instructions:

Families can follow and encourage the patient to follow the care, service, or treatment plan developed by the Treatment Team. They can express any concerns they have about their ability to follow and comply with the proposed care plan or course of treatment. Every effort is made to adapt the plan to the patient's specific needs and strengths. Families can be sure that they understand the consequences of the treatment alternatives and of not following the proposed course of care.

- Following rules and regulations:

Families can help by following the hospital's rules and regulations concerning patient care and conduct and by encouraging the patient to do the same.

- Encouraging the patient to show respect and consideration:

Families can help by being considerate of the hospital's employees and property and by encouraging the patient to do the same.

- Encouraging the patient to treat staff and other patients with respect and consideration:

Families can help by encouraging their loved one who is a patient to show consideration of fellow patients. Families can also help by encouraging the patient to minimize disruptive behavior that inhibits rehabilitation and therapy. This includes encouraging their loved one to control noise and disturbances. Families can help by encouraging the patient to be considerate of other patients and by following the hospital's no tobacco/smoking policy.

- Encouraging the patient to maintain professional boundaries with staff:

Staff-Patient relationships at ASH are one-way helping relationships. Staff are here to help patients in treatment. Appropriate interactions with staff are critical to the provision of effective treatment. Families can help by encouraging the patient to follow the instructions of their treatment team regarding the maintenance of professional boundaries with staff.

- If you have concerns about the quality of the hospital's care/treatment of your family member, complaints may be filed with the Joint Commission:

The mailing address is Division of Accreditation Operations, Office of Quality Monitoring, Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, One Renaissance Boulevard, Oakbrook Terrace, IL 60181; Website: www.jointcommission.org; Phone: (800) 994-6610 or complete online "Report a Patient Safety Event" form.

- You can call (805) 468-2000 and leave a message for a Social Worker. If your family member has signed a consent form, information about his care may be released to you.

Is your family member having difficulty coping and in need of help?

Does your family member feel like they:

- can't manage their anger?
- can't cope with their mental illness?
- can't cope with day-to-day life?
- wants to drink or take drugs?
- might commit a crime?
- might hurt someone?
- might hurt themselves?

Suicide is a preventable form of death.

Help your loved one by knowing what to look for and what to do.

These things might suggest that your family member is more likely to hurt themselves (especially if they have hurt themselves in the past):

- They are more depressed.
- They are drinking or taking drugs
- They are in legal or financial trouble.
- They have gotten some bad news.

Warning signs for self-harm, things to watch for:

- Thoughts about suicide
- Talking about suicide
- Preoccupation with death
- Giving away possessions
- Relationship troubles
- Keeping to themselves more
- Trouble eating or sleeping
- Feelings of worthlessness
- Loss of interest in their appearance

What You Can Do to Help

1. Check in with your family member often.

Ask them what they are thinking and how they are feeling.

2. If your loved one tells you they are thinking about or planning to hurt themselves, ask more questions:

- "How do you plan to do it?"
- "When do you plan to do it?"

Sometimes it is hard to talk about these things. The best way to help your loved one is to know what he is planning to do.

3. Do not leave them alone.

4. Make sure that the method they want to use is not available (gun, rope, knife, etc.).

5. Tell the rest of your family or your important support people so they can help you.

6. Contact a mental health institution (like County Mental Health) right away so they can help.
